charge against Miss Costello is that she had in her possession copies of the Publacht na Hiseann, a Republican paper. Kevin O'Higgins, minister of home affairs, replied that the charge was merely formal, the real reason for her detention being her citizenship.

The government announced the execution today of three persons captured after a fight at Kerry cave. One was a deserter from a British regiment. He and another previously captured had signed an undertaking not to take part in hostilities, which they had after wards broken. The men pleaded that an irregular leader forced them to join.

STRAUS GIVEN CONTROL OF SITE SOLD BY MAYER

Control of the site of the old Strauss hotel at Jackson Park, which boulevards were named in S. W. Straus, president of the S. W. Straus & Co., yesterday when Judge George F. Rush confirmed the sale of the late Levy Mayer's half interest in the property to the banker.

Judge Rush's order is the result of suit the trustees declared that taxes on the land, upon which the Straus interests are erecting a $16,000,000 bank building, would drain the finances of the Mayer estate. Edwin P. Mayer, a former associate of the late Mr. Mayer, has indicated that he will dispose of his half interest in the property.

$75,000 SHEIK, WANTED HERE, IS ARRESTED IN WEST

Ernest B. Schwab, the "model cast- icer" who is believed to have embezzled approximately $75,000 from a number of consumers in the First National Bank building, was arrested last night in Fresno, Cal., according to word received at the detective bureau here.

The telegram advising of Schwab's arrest in the California city was signed by Chief of Police Frank P. Trux and stated that the alleged embezzler will fight extradition.

Schwab was cashier for the Wedron Silos company, being regarded as a model employee. Following his disappearance on April 5 investigators uncovered escapades with eight women in as many months, which had made him a prominent figure in the cabaret world during that time.

DENTIST CHARGES $1,300 ATTEMPT AT SHAKEDOWN

Investigation of the story of a Polish dentist that he had been told he must pay $1,300 in order to obtain a license to practice in Illinois was begun yesterday by the state department of registration and education.

Dr. Abraham Plikowski of 3140 Carroll place, was brought to the office of Dr. Herman N. Bundeisen, health commissioner, where he told his story, naming two dental schools.

Dr. Plikowski came in Inspector John W. Folmer of the state department, who declared he would investigate what appeared to be an attempt to emulate practices under the former director of the department, W. H. Miller, who was convicted of trafficking in state liquor.

Two County Police Hurt When Motorcycles Crash

Meeting in a head-on collision on their motorcycles while rounding a curve on the River road near Grand avenue last night, County Highway Policemen L. J. Jelinek of 8225 West Madison street and Edward Folker of Broadview sustained fractures of their legs and other injuries. The glaring headlight of their machines are blamed for the accident.

U. S. GRAND JURY BEGINS QUIZ ON RUM DIVIDENDS

Surprise Move Puts All Records Before It.

Government permits, stock certificates, and "ownership" affidavits, which totaled 130 Chicagoans to share in the dissolved Grommes & Ullrich liquor firm's $200,000 booze dividend, were presented yesterday to the federal grand jury.

Because of repeated statements of several interested government officials that the "jury is not bound" for representation to the jury, and were to be the same time, opening of the inquiry came as a surprise to the jurors and apparently as a shock to the initial witnesses, who had been hastily summoned.

Earnshaw Causes Thrill.

Mr. summurred to appear before the jury, who were waiting in an anteroom, were visibly excited when Col. A. C. Earnshaw, chief of the special intelligence unit, bureau of internal revenue, went into the jury chamber bearing all the documents and ledgers he could carry.

Col. Earnshaw, head of a department, the function of which is to uncover irregularities in the personnel of the prohibition department, continued his noncommittal attitude when asked for details regarding his appearance before the jury.

It is known, however, that the special intelligence office has been working on the case ever since the distribution was publicly revealed three weeks ago.

U. S. Has All Records.

Immediately following the arrival of the "dividend" Col. Earnshaw seized all records in the case, and his report, with photographic copies of all documentary evidence, was the first official information received in Washington. Subsequent reports were forwarded by the district attorney's office after District Attorney Olson had conferred with Roscoe C. Andrews, later suspended from his position as prohibition director for Illinois.

Due to the secrecy that has surrounded development in the inquiry, spectators could not tell the individual who might be hit in the event the jury votes indictments on the evidence now being presented.

Think Andrews Is Clear.

Supporters of Mr. Andrews among federal officials and those representing private organizations remained firm in their expressions of belief that he will not be named in any of the expected trial bills.

"Poor judgment in not asking Washington for advice is the worst that can be charged against him," continued to be the consensus in regard to Mr. Andrews.

Friends of the stockholders in some cases denied the belief that the attorney had availed any action on parley charges that might have resulted from signing certain affidavits. These affidavits were reported to have contained the statement that the new stock buyers had owned the liquor obtained by them in the distribution prior to enactment of the prohibition act, and that the buyers merely had been stored by them in the Grommes & Ullrich warehouse.

Loophole Is Found.

It now appears, it is said, that the affidavits made no such declaration but contained neatly worded legal locutions to the effect that Grommes & Ullrich, not the "stockholder," owned the liquor before the dry era. These alleged "tricks" affidavits pass the responsibility right back to the prohibition department, many legal experts contend.

Other attorneys familiar with the federal liquor laws and the procedure in the prohibition department said officials of the liquor firm might be the only ones in danger of criminal proceedings. They said that under one construction of the law the original owners of the firm might be charged with the illegal sale of liquor, as in itself.

THE HUMORIST

"Fool was he that wished but a crane's short neck," says Randolph in the "Muses' Looking Glass."

Give me one long as a table; and all the way a palate, to taste my meal the longer."

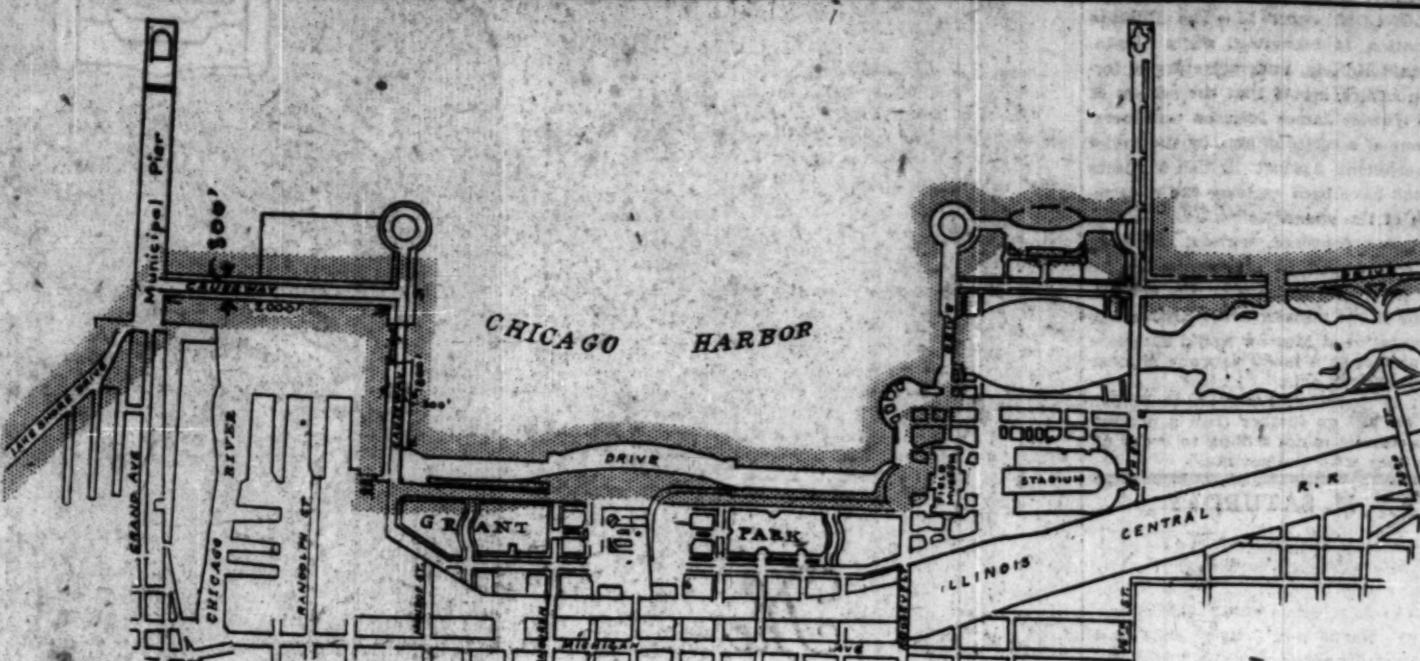

The sentiment behind this humor will be thoroughly appreciated by those who dine at CHILDS.

Delicious vegetable dinners, appropriate to the season, delight to the palate.

NEXT LINK IN SHORE BEAUTIFICATION

Map shows how $3,000,000 causeway will link north and south lake shore park systems and drives. Beginning at the west end of the Municipal Pier, on the north, the causeway will proceed along the lake front to the river, where it will be connected by bridge to Grant park, proceeding thence to Field museum, and finally linking Grant and Jackson parks. This will make a continuous lake shore drive from Grace street on the north to 67th street on the south side.

ing their shares they actually sold some of the bottled variety.

Attorney Charles A. Williams, who disposed of the legal obstacles between the Grommes & Ullrich warehouse and the 130 cellars, appeared also as counsel for Barney Grogan during the day and sought a reduction of Grogan's bonds. Judge James H. Wilkerson reduced them to $10,000, the same as fixed for City Treasurer John A. Cervenka, indicted with Grogan. Both furnished bail.

W. D. Moss, acting prohibition director, who succeeded Andrews, continued his policy of changing the personnel of his office. The "beer squad" was transferred to the staff of Chief Field Agent John E. Earley and fifteen of Earley's veteran revenue men replaced them.

Robert D. Sterling was given the post formerly held by Charles McRae, who has supervision of drug stores selling whisky. Charles R. Burgess of Washington is to take over the position of head of the revocation department and will have the final word in decisions pertaining to revocation of druggists' licenses.

Report Death to Wolf.

Director Moss also said he would place a new man in charge of the sacramental wines department. Asked whether the "Pennsylvania system," which would take all authority away from the excise service employees, would be adopted he said, "It has not been done yet."

"You can say for me that the laws are to be observed to the letter in this office," he stated. "I have no information how long I will be here, but while I am the prohibition laws will be observed."

Heretofore no one accused of selling poison moonshines had been tried for manslaughter.

State's Attorney Crowe promised Coroner Wolf to take the case to the grand jury at the next session. Subsequently, there have been a number of similar cases reported. It is said more indictments are to be voted within a short time.

CULT FLAPPERS IN FULL FLIGHT WITH SHEIKS OF COLONY

Dodge Quiz, Board Chicago Train; Three Held.

BULLETIN.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 25.—[Special.]—Two members of the House of David were arrested tonight when they attempted to slip away. They were Benjamin Hill, manager of the colony's baseball team, and a young woman. They were caught at Stevensville, where they had gone in an auto to board a Chicago bound train. Both were brought to St. Joseph and are being guarded in a hotel.

Hill has promised to go before the jury tomorrow and reveal the inside workings of the cult. The girl is said to have made the same promise.

Three other members of the colony fled and boarded a train for Chicago. Others are said to be trying to slip away.

BY DONALD EWING.

St. Joseph, Mich., April 25.—[Special.]—Michigan today stopped three contemplated secret marriages in the House of David and an assistant monk tonight took one of the would-be brides. Just after she refused to answer certain questions when called as a witness in the investigation of the cult's morals.

The jailed girl is Phoebe Robertson, 17, according to her application for a license. She developed such a bad memory during her examination by Attorney General Andrew E. Dougherty and his assistant, Homer Quay, before Judge Harry Dingeman that the officials ordered Sheriff Bridgeman to hold her until her memory improves.

The falling came at the end of a day crowded with developments of the type that made Judge Landis' court famous. When word was received of the previous morning that Mr. Dougherty ordered that she be stopped and secretly sent deputies to get the brides.

Girls Are Too Occupied.

One of the girls was taking a bath. Another was working in the farm. Another was so occupied that she couldn't be fetched immediately.

But Jessie Daniels, a well built blonde of 18, was brought back to the inquiry chamber where she was given a long grilling to determine if her marriage was one of love or if she was being forced. And it was one of the state's investigations into reports that Benjamin Farnell, king of the cult, had violated his self-made rule of celibacy by rutting little girls under the plea that he was performing religious rites.

Boots Beat 'Em to It.

Bessie surprised every one by testifying that she was secretly married last night. She was not wearing those who applied for license today.

Bessie was accompanied by Mrs. Cora Mooney, one of the charter members of the cult. When the dozen photographers began a barrage of flash-light pictures Mrs. Mooney announced that she would "bust the cameras of the next darn man who took a picture of Bessie."

A photographer shot a picture. Bessie pinned her right fist near the floor and came through with an uppercut that landed on the photographer's nose. His camera went one way and he went another.

May Permit Weddings Later.

The sudden group marriage of twenty-eight of the Israelites last week on the eve of the quiz, many of them looking like children, caused Mr. Dougherty to stop the marriages. They probably will be stopped later.

The state seemingly has determined in its inquiry that the supposed immorality in the colony were confined primarily to certain chiefs of the followers of Benjamin, who termed himself the "Seventh Angel." Hot polities were seemed to stand by the rules of chastity. The stories of girls that the practice of chastity is merely hearsay are looked upon as concoctions of enemies.

Meanwhile, the evidence of alleged immorality continue to pile up before Judge Dingeman.

Today, three former members told

LONDON, April 25.—The Russian situation is becoming acute again. Ronald McNee, undersecretary of foreign affairs, stated that the seizure of the trawler James Johnson was merely one of a series of acts by the soviet government against British subjects which have been exciting the indignation of the country.

It was proposed, without delay, to address a serious communication to the soviet government on the subject, while in the meantime the British representative at Moscow would not cease to protest in a most vigorous manner against such acts.

It is doubtful, however, if British action will go further than a protest. The cabinet is not willing to break off relations with the soviets.

OUR PATRONS

Our patrons come to us with the thought not merely of buying clothes—but of having us dress them. They take our recommendations as sincerely as they are given.

Men in business—men of all walks who have not the time closely to follow the newer styles in dress come to us; because they know that a man turned out by us is indeed well-dressed. His clothes are correct—they are his clothes—not only in the sense of ownership, but of matching his personal equation. Ogilvie & Jacobs clothes are never extreme in style; quality and good taste are paramount considerations in selecting clothes for our patrons.

We suggest that you come in and see for yourself.

Pure white Oxford cloth shirt with neat-fitting collar attached, either button-down or plain. Correct for sports wear and for the man about town who favors the freedom and comfort they afford.

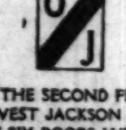

Hats in correct styles to complete the appearance of well-dressed men. A variety of styles and shades to suit every taste.

New correct fad necktie in the favored patterns. Distinctive cravats you will not find elsewhere.

NEW SOCIETY OF STRONG URGED BY McDougall

"Disfranchise Weaklings, Limit Births."

Sweeping reforms in the way of birth control, eugenics, and suffrage were proposed last night by Prof. William McDougall of Harvard University before a large audience in Harris Hall on Northwestern University. The occasion was the last of a series of six lectures dealing with "Ethics and World Problem," given under the Norman Harris foundation.

Prof. McDougall would begin with the disfranchisement of the mentally deficient, the convicted criminals, and the illiterates.

Would Limit Unfit.

When he had thus divided humanity into two great sections, he would prohibit intermarriage under penalty of disfranchising the "full" citizen. He would limit the number of offspring in the second class by a "deliberate social control dictated by the principles of national ethics."

Prof. McDougall also proposed the formation of a third or intermediate class, the members of which would serve from 20 to 25 years as probationers for the upper class. Children of parents in the lower class would be members, their promotion depending upon their conduct.

See Three Advantages.

"I see three great advantages of such an organization," said the professor. "It would place political power in the hands of a reasonably select body of citizens, men and women. Each nation would be fortified against the tendency to die away at the top."

"The class of full citizens would be protected by the mixture of blood of inferior quality, and so preserve itself from deterioration and even slowly improve its quality from century to century."

"If such restriction were effectively maintained," concluded the professor,
"the class of full citizens might be trusted to regulate for themselves their reproduction rate."

MUSIC TEACHER GIRLS ACCUSE HELD FOR JURY

Charged with taking indecent liberties with little girls, James E. Wilford, 62 years old, for more than twenty years
a music teacher in Maywood, was held to the grand jury yesterday
by Police Magistrate George W. Carr.

Four girls, between the ages of 8 and 12 years, testified against the music master, and bonds of $5,000, $1,500 in each case, were fixed by Judge Carr.

The case caused a sensation in the been continued several times and was not held to a hearing at 8 o'clock yestermothers of little girls who had taken music lessons from Wilford or his wife, who also is a room in the city hall.

A SUGGESTION!

How to Locate a Suitable Home or Homesite on the North Shore

OR all who are interested, McGuire and Orr are organized to supply authentic information on properties in each of the North Shore suburbs from Evanston to Lake Forest.

Information is freely given by our representatives to all who call, phone, or write to any of our five suburban offices or to the general offices at 69 W. Washington St., Chicago, and inquirers are not subjected to annoying solicitation.

If you desire competent assistance in finding a suitable property, simply express your preferences for level, rolling, open or wooded landscape, and your requirements of location with reference to the lake and transportation, church, school and clubs.

Then, if you wish a home already built, describe the architecture and style of interior which most appeals to you and the approximate number and size of rooms desired.

You will then be shown only properties selected with full knowledge of your preferences and requirements, thus avoiding the usual delay and loss of time attendant upon the business of finding a home.

Indeed, much time is often saved and quick selection facilitated by a review of the photographs of available offerings with which our representatives are supplied.

McGuire and Orr are in a position to give most complete information on homes and homes-sites of the better class in all of the North Shore Suburbs, for most available properties are listed with this firm—and very many of them exclusively.

Right now there is an unusual opportunity to secure Lake Shore homesites in Highland Park at very moderate prices.

You are invited to make full and free use of our facilities, whether you intend to buy now, or merely seek information for future guidance.

You will find the service courteous, efficient and decidedly helpful. Phone Randolph 2981.

Park Board Awaits Only
Government O. K.

1926, approximately $20,000,000 can be saved by adoption of the fixed type.

Difference is Huge.

If the city continues constructing movable bridges, the twenty-six spans will cost in the neighborhood of $31,200,000, or about $1,200,000 each, according to the report. If fixed bridges are built the cost will be only $10,400,000 or about $400,000 each.

The annual maintenance and operating cost of forty-one existing movable bridges is placed at $900,000. The same bridges converted to the fixed type would be maintained at an annual cost of only $225,000, a difference of $675,000 annually in the city's bridge maintenance bill.

Old Spans to Be Changed.

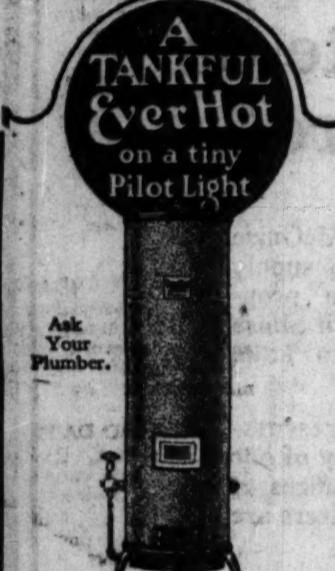

It is proposed that, in addition to the city entering upon a policy of constructing twenty-six new fixed bridges, the forty-one old movable bridges of all types be converted to fixed bridges, beginning in the outlying districts and working toward the loop.

The report states 1931 for the conversion of the Washington, Randolph, and Lake street bridges; 1932 for the Franklin Street and Wells street bridges; 1933 for Clark and Dearborn streets; 1934 for State street, and 1935 for Michigan avenue.

MEDICS TOLD OF DISEASE MENACE IN DRAINAGE CURB

The movement against the sanitary district for diverting water from Lake Michigan, if successful, will throw Chicago health conditions back thirty years into the dark ages of explosive typhoid epidemics, harming thousands of citizens.

Dr. Willis O. Nance, trustee of the district, contended last night in a paper read before the Chicago Medical society. The society unanimously voted to support the sanitary district's combatting the still movement, in which an order sought to compel a reduction in the volume of water taken from the lake.

"This is a strongly entrenched and misguided movement, largely based upon the false premise that more water is diverted than should be permitted to conserve the best interests of the people," said Dr. Nance. Dr. Nance said: "It is impossible for an engineer to prove from the lake level records that there has been any lowering of the lakes."

bers found that because of legal barriers raised by the gold coasters they were unable to bring a public bath house to Oak street they decided to do the next best thing—to bring the beach to the bathhouse. Henry A. Mabach, president of the park board, announced yesterday that permits to extend the beach all the way from Oak street north to North avenue have been received from both the state and federal authorities. The plan includes the erection of lockers, showers, and dressing rooms in the south end of Lincoln park, where there are no sanitary restrictions against such structures.

Both Sides Win.

So the bathers win their point for suitable dressing facilities, while the gold coasters are victorious in preventing the bathhouses from being built in their "front yards."

Under the permits granted by the water department engineers and the water commission of the state department of public works, the board can construct as many as a dozen jetties at right angles with the shore line between Oak street and North avenue. These jetties, constructed of pilings, will cause the sand to accumulate along the shore and form one great sandy stretch all the way from the Drake hotel to Lincoln park.

BACK WATERWAY PLAN

Seven of the great railway systems serving the upper Mississippi valley and the northwest yesterday announced support for the proposed Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway project.

The deep waterway project, members of the Tidewater association pointed out, must be considered in any national plan for the improvement of transportation, while rail officials asserted that the completion of the sea way would be a big step towards the successful handling of the crops of the Mississippi valley, a section, they said.

8 PRINTED WORDS STATE'S TRUMP AGAINST RADICAL

St. Joseph, Mich., April 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—A single sentence written by Charles E. Rothenberg in an article published in the official organ of the Communist party in October, 1921, was responsible today by the state of Michigan in an effort to prove that Rothenberg, charged with advocating criminal syndicalism, actually had counseled use of armed forces to overthrow the American government.

The article, titled "Soviet or Parliament," said of the Communist plan for seizing power.

"And this includes the use of armed force."

The prosecution brought its case against Rothenberg to a close with its own writings.

Attack Agent's Veracity.

Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the defense, opened Rothenberg's defense by reading depositions taken at Philadelphia and Camden attacking the reputation for truth and veracity of Francis Morrow, state's star witness.

The reading of Rothenberg's article in the Communist was the outstanding point in the state's case. Rothenberg wrote:

"The question, 'Soviet or Parliament' is not a question of distant theoretical importance. The advocacy of the soviet form of organization as the organ of workers' struggle for power and of the proletarian state includes the acceptance of extra-parliamentary means of achieving power. It means the acceptance of the principle that the extra-parliamentary government will be overthrown through the mass power of the workers. And this includes the use of armed force."

Heroin Rioters Praised.

Most of the day was taken up with reading to the jury communist writings.

An article in the Communist by Robert Minor, which was read in evidence, praised the Heroin III. miners, "who don't talk 'mass action,' but take their guns and close down the coal mine and paralyze the state machinery by military action."

Two other articles were gleaned from the thesis and resolutions of the Moscow communists' congresses included the declaration that:

"In order to overthrow in the international bourgeoisie and to create an international soviet republic as a transition stage to the complete abolition of the state, the communist international will be:

"1. To overthrow the state."

TURKS DEMAND ALLIES INVITE REDS TO PARLEY

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LAUSANNE, April 25.—In accordance with the terms of the Russo-Turkish treaty, Ismet Pasha, leader of the Turkish delegation here, demanded today that the allies invite a soviet representative to participate in any discussion of a straits régime. Ismet said it had been agreed that the Bolsheviks were entitled to take part in all negotiations concerning the freedom of the seas, but he declined to discuss articles of a treaty or a treaty draft concerning the straits in the absence of the Russians.

Sir Horace Rumbold, leader of the British delegation, explained that Foreign Minister Tchitcherin refused to sign the clause covering the régime of the straits on the allies at the former conference, but had agreed that the soviet had been invited to send a representative to Lausanne to sign the straits convention when the treaty is ready for signature.

Ismet stated that the Angora government does not desire to change the régime as drafted. From a soviet representative here it is learned that M. Tchitcherin is coming here to sign the straits convention.

Discuss Twelve Disputed Points.

Twelve disputed points were discussed today by Ismet and the allies.

It was not found as both sides were jockeying for position in the final trading and bargaining. Ismet took exception to the fact that all his demands were denied, but he will take them up later.

The French again refused to support

Ismet's demands that they include the TODAY'S club column is written at the special request of Jane Ellison, who is the secretary of the Borden Recipe Club. When Jane Ellison was a little girl, she and her brothers and sisters were never allowed to eat candy.

But every Saturday afternoon, Jane Ellison's mother would make some special kind of candy for them. It was a genuine treat for everybody, and on that day, the children could have all that they wanted.

Some dietitians give a child one or two pieces of candy after every meal. But Jane Ellison's mother, Jane, was a very happy one after all. You are absolutely sure of what goes into the candy you make yourself. It also really satisfies the child to have all that he wants—without, of course, eating in a long time.

Here are Jane Ellison's mother's favorites. If you know any better recipes than these won't you let me have them?

UNCOOKED FONDANT

White of 1 egg
1 tablespoon evaporated milk
1 teaspoon cold water
Confectioner's sugar
Put egg white, water, milk and flavoring into a bowl and beat until well blended. Add the sugar little at a time, beating until well mixed before each addition. Continue adding a little sugar at a time until the mixture is stiff enough to knead. Take out on a board and knead until smooth. This fondant may be used as stuffing for nuts or for fruits or centers of chocolates and bon bons. In making bon bons, the fondant may be colored green, pink, lavender or orange with a vegetable paste and other flavors substituted for the vanilla.

WALNUT CREAMS

Fondant, English walnut meats: Fondant fondant in balls. Flatten and place halves of English walnuts on each side. Pecan meats may be used in place of walnuts.

STUFFED DATES

Dates, Fondant, Granulated Sugar. Remove stones from dates. Roll fondant in small cylinders and place in dates where stone was removed. Roll in granulated sugar.

ALMOND CREAMS

Blanched Almonds, Fondant, Granulated Sugar: Cover almonds with fondant. Shape like a very small egg and roll in granulated sugar. Filbert meats may be substituted for the almond if desired.

FRUIT CREAMS

Candied or Maraschino Cherries or Candied Pineapple, Fondant: Roll out fondant about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in the thickness. Cut into rounds about $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter. Roll around small pieces of pineapple or candied cherry, leaving a small portion exposed.

MARPLE CROQUETTES

3 cups maple sugar
1 cup melted milk
2 cups water
1 cup broken butter
1 cup broken pecan meats
Boil together the sugar and diluted milk until the mixture forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Remove from fire, cool, and beat until creamy. Add nut meats and drop in spoonfuls on waxed paper.

DATES STUFFED WITH NUTS

Wash dates, remove the pits. Fill with pecan or hickory nut meats and roll in granulated sugar.

Because of its creamy richness, Borden's Evaporated Milk is particularly good for uncooked fondant. It gives the fondant a flavor and consistency that you can get in no other way.

For cooked candies, such as the maple croquette above, or for ordinary fudge, it is superior to ordinary bottle milk because it has less tendency to curdle.

If you would like to be a member of the Borden Recipe Club, write to Jane Ellison, 229 South Madison Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, for application for the membership fee. Address to Borden Bldg., 229 Madison Ave., New York.

RESOLUTION

Scrooge had "big" Thermometer closed the door on our life than she heard a knock knock.

Her tall form stiffened and her mobile lips thinned a trifle. She stood there, like a little girl, with her breath come short and her bobbed hair falling over her shoulders.

Her knocking was resumed. It was unsteady in its knock, unsteady in its knock. There was a knock at the door. She turned her head and in a moment the door was open. "It's me," whispered Lorry Webley, cautiously moving into the room.

The knock had his eye shrunk by reason of the effort.

"It's me. At least, I hope not," said Miss Thermometer. "I want to find out if it is the right knock."

Lorry Webley climbed down from the mantle and settled himself in the chair. "I have been here before," he said, sitting on Lorry Chesterfield's "Letters to the Editor" and grinning. "I have been here before."

He had been here before, with the proud pride of his inheritance of the ideals of chivalry now in good stead. Instantly he was transformed from a modern cakewalk into a knight of Arthur's Round Table.

He was a knight, like the rest of the table, dressed in the armor of the small.

Then he met the towering figure of a man, a man, and suddenly slid down the banister without a word.

Together they unrolled the mysterious panel and found a pair of very shaped and elegant new spring shoes.

Printed to one was the card of the older man.

"My dear son: I cannot bear to see you behind the bar of Justice. Your dear mother is ill, and I am afraid she will die if you do not come home."

"I am afraid I must go to the office," said Lorry.

"There were a trifle more as he put his foot in it; and then the other."

As he stood erect a mirage occurred. He instantly realized that he was in the presence of the Emperor of Democles.

Again he looked the emperor in the eye.

"I am afraid I must go to the office," said Lorry.

"There were a trifle more as he put his foot in it; and then the other."

He stood erect, and was really stoutly built.

"There are two styles like what we are wearing," said Harry Hasher's masterful voice was heard as he stepped breathing. He started to remove the ring from his shirt-button when he heard the knock again.

"They turned in terror. The transom showered over and over again.

"They gazed upward, spell-bound.

HEART OF CHILD WAVERS BETWEEN RIVAL MOTHERS

Heredity and Environment War in Girl's Soul.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Her eyes, bright and snappy, are like those of her real mother, Mrs. Ada Klinger Morris of 2136 Flournoy street, who has been fighting for twelve years to find "Beatrice." But the voice is soft and low, like that of her foster mother, Mrs. Jessie Nuttal of Waukegan, who for twelve years has quietly loved and educated "Alice."

And this heredity and environment are fighting it out in the childish brain of 12 year old Beatrice Alice Nuttal, for whose custody her real and foster mothers, arms linked, are waging a friendly battle before Judge Joseph E. David.

"If it becomes absolutely necessary, I shall ask the child her preferences; otherwise no," said Judge David yesterday afternoon. "And everybody looked relieved, especially the girl.

A Problem for a Solomon.

If she were a little younger, environment would perhaps win easily—dolls, candy, an auto ride, a ukulele.

If she were a little older, heredity would probably have a clear road. She would have learned the world's evaluation of mother love.

But Beatrice Alice is just between, and she doesn't know what to do. She comforts the frail, girlish figure in the tan suit, the "kind lady," called Ada, and she wipes both the tan suit and herself over to soothe her.

When Judge David learned that James Nuttal, the foster father, a Waukegan postal clerk, was not represented by a lawyer, he called for a volunteer. Attorney Francis Walker, present in the court room, offered his services.

Decision to Be Delayed.

It was then agreed that a stipulation should be filed by Attorney John J. Coburn, representing Mrs. Morris, setting forth the facts agreed upon in the case. Pending this Judge David years, for fear the mother might change her mind. O, why didn't somebody tell us?"

C. V. Williams, superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, in explanation of the transaction twelve years ago, under another superintendent, does not try to excuse the officials for taking Mrs. Morris' three day old baby from her, as alleged.

"It is cases like these, and this is not an isolated case, I said, "that have made me tighten up adoption regulations within the last two years. And we as an institution are working for even more stringent rules."

Meanwhile Beatrice Alice, exploring the courtrooms in the county building, suggests a solution. "Let's all live together," she pleads.

And as she slides along the marble floor she doesn't notice the queen smiles on the tightened lips of the three adults to whom her joy is bringing much sorrow.

BY SELBY MAXWELL.

A new super-magnetic alloy has been discovered, Dr. H. D. Arnold and G. W. Elman of the research laboratories of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and the Western Electric company announce. This metal is made of iron and nickel and is many times more permeable to magnetism than the best soft iron or silicon steel now used.

The new alloy will revolutionize submarine cables and telegraph and telephone construction, its discoverers say. Permalloy, as they call it, may be used for the sounding diaphragms in telephone receivers, where, because of its great grip on the electro-magnetism fashioned by the speaker's voice, it may give forth a sound which more nearly approximates the tones of the true human voice than sound as metallic as present receivers do. The metal may also find a wide use in radio.

The three questions which the committee, which met yesterday in the City club, has to decide are: What is the Chicago metropolitan district is and how much territory should be included in any planning area; what features, such as parks and playgrounds, a governmental, should be included in a metropolitan plan, and what method can be devised by which this planning may be undertaken.

YOUTH IS SLAIN BY TWO NEGROES; KILLERS ESCAPE

Edward Bonk, 20 years old, of 1454 Fleetwood avenue, was shot and killed last night by two Negroes after they had exchanged angry words in front of the saloon of Paul H. Hadale at 1454 Fleetwood avenue.

The Negroes escaped in an automobile, which staggered into the saloon and collapsed on the floor. He was rushed to the North avenue hospital, but died on the way. An examination showed that a bullet had entered his heart.

According to the police, Bonk was standing in front of the saloon when the Negroes approached and entered into a conversation, which soon changed to an angry argument. Then, without warning, one of the Negroes fired.

Death Takes One Baby.

Mrs. Nuttal, formerly a teacher, and fond of children, has one stepson who is married. She has no children of her own. The Nuttals adopted one child, "Beesie," from the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society thirteen years ago. The baby died within six months.

Now Open!

6TH ANNUAL

Used Car Show

COLISEUM—April 25th to May 3rd

Auspices of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association

Open from 10 A. M. to 10 P. M. Daily and Sunday

Aim and Purpose

The annual used car show is conducted by the Chicago Automobile Trade Association, an organization not operated for profit, to give the public an opportunity to inspect and purchase the many wonderful values the used car market affords at bargain prices and acquaint themselves with the responsible dealers in used cars whose principal business is the selling of new cars.

All Chicago Endorses Show

Each year the public expresses its approval of the used car show idea by an increase in attendance. The show proves itself a convenient market place for wise buyers who want to save time and effort in needless indiscriminate shopping.

Triple Endorsement Your Guarantee

Every car carries the endorsement of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association—the stamp of the Expert Inspection Committee—the individual guarantee of the Dealer. No inflated valuations here. Every car is priced at its true worth.

Ask for a Copy of the Used Car Buyers' Guide. It's FREE.

Inspection

All cars must pass the rigid inspection of a Board of Experts, competent judges, selected for their known mechanical ability and integrity by the Chicago Automobile Trade Association. They determine the price and adjudge the mechanical condition of each car. Only cars that meet the rigid standards the experts set and can pass inspection are allowed to be put on sale.

Identification

At the Sixth Annual Used Car Show each car, as it passes inspection, will have sealed on it, in a conspicuous place, an Inspection Card. The car thus approved has measured up to all requirements. It further indicates to the buyer that a Board of Experts has declared it mechanically right and priced right. The price will also be shown very plainly. You can't make a mistake and you pick your car by an expert's judgment.

WOMEN OF STATE CLUBS TO OPEN WAR UPON 'SMUT'

Legislation providing severe penalties for persons printing and circulating "smut," or indecent literature, will be recommended by the first district meeting of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, which opens its sessions in the Hotel Morrison yesterday.

Other important recommendations to be made are establishment of comfort stations in the local restoration of the Fine Arts building, involving an expenditure of at least $2,000,000; an educational campaign to inform the public that there are 6,000,000 malnourished children in the United States; a state convention of the world.

The warfare against "smut" will be pushed vigorously, according to Marion Biele, 2114 West Washington boulevard, chairman of the social conditions committee.

"The punishment given those persons who print and book such literature is wholly insufficient to impress them," she said. "Such literature has a devastating effect upon adolescents and should be stopped for all time."

Comfort stations should be established under elevated stations in the loop, said Mrs. James Eppley of the county board service committee.

The three questions which the committee, which met yesterday in the City club, has to decide are: What is the Chicago metropolitan district is and how much territory should be included in any planning area; what features, such as parks and playgrounds, a governmental, should be included in a metropolitan plan, and what method can be devised by which this planning may be undertaken.

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special.]

The first rumpus over civil service bills pending in the legislature was kicked up tonight.

A recent decision by the Supreme court invalidating the park civil service law stirred up what was to be one of the biggest civil service scandals in Illinois. The case in which the Supreme court made its decision grew out of prosecutions over the sale of Riverview tickets for a Lundin-Thompson picnic.

The validity of the park civil service law was attacked and the Supreme court sustained the objections. Three thousand park employes in Chicago were denied protection of the civil service law by the decision. The pensions of eighty-five widows were endangered.

Friends of the civil service employee rushed to Springfield. Representative

Thom (Rep., Chicago) introduced a bill to re-enact the law. The bill was rushed through the house. Reaching the senate, it was referred to the municipal committee of which Senator

Joyce (Rep., Chicago) is chairman.

Senator Haenisch (Rep., Chicago),

chairman of the civil service committee and a follower of Percy B. Coffin, a state tax commissioner, managed it to the civil service committee.

A lobby, headed by former Representative Emil Johnson, now secretary of the Lincoln park board, was here to fight the bill. Gov. Small, it was said, sent word to kill the bill. In a hot scrap the committee finally gave the bill a favorable report by a vote of 6 to 2.

The agricultural committee of the house tonight recommended passage of the cooperative marketing bill.

Opponents of the measure put up a

Bill Gaines, stiff fight in an attempt to defeat it or amend it and the committee spent the whole afternoon battling over the bill which came out with nine amendments proposed by backers of the measure. The most important amendment permits

the establishment of subsidiary societies by two-thirds vote of a cooperative marketing organization.

Opponents of the bill attacked it as an invalid measure under the Constitution because of prior bills and exemptions granted farmers.

The feature which prohibits members from withdrawing from a cooperative mar-keteting organization and penalizing them for doing so, was attacked as another serious objection to the bill.

Frigidaire
THE ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR for MODERN HOMES

Frigidaire has been tested and approved by the Good Housekeeping

Institute and the Tribune Institute

Built for the Average Home

Frigidaire is an every-day utility for the average home. There is a size and style of Frigidaire for your home at a price you can afford to pay. Furthermore, Frigidaire can be bought on terms so reasonable as to make it possible for the average family to easily finance its purchase.

Frigidaire will bring to your home a far better method of refrigeration. It will safeguard the health of your family through a better preservation of food. It will rid you once and for all of the muss and nuisance of ice. It provides what all authorities agree are the essential principles of proper refrigeration in the home—1st, a temperature constantly cold—2nd, a dry atmosphere—3rd, thorough cleanliness.

These conditions—impossible to obtain in an ordinary icebox—are provided in an ideal way by Frigidaire, in which there is always a dry atmosphere and a temperature at least 10 degrees colder than obtainable from ice.

Food kept in a Frigidaire retains all of its original flavor and tastiness. Frigidaire makes its own ice for cold drinks and provides a means for making delicious frozen desserts.

Operating Cost
No More Than for Ice

Frigidaire is operated on any home electric current and generally costs less than what you would pay for ice. Its mechanism is automatic in operation and requires oiling but once a year. Frigidaire can be placed anywhere in the home most convenient to the housewife.

It Can Be Installed
In Your Own Ice Box

If you wish, and already own a good ice box, Frigidaire mechanism alone can be installed. The illustration at the side shows how this can be done. The main part of the apparatus is placed in your basement and the actual freezing device is placed in one of the compartments of your refrigerator.

There is no reason why you should not have the many benefits of Frigidaire in your home this summer. Find out about it today. Just send us a post card or telephone. Full information will be forthcoming without obligation to you.

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special] The Illinois senate killed the Dunlap state police bill today. The measure failed by three votes. The roll call was, 23 to 25. Senator Webster [Rep., Chicago] was present but did not vote.

Most of the time was taken by opponents of the bill. At the outset after Senator Dunlap made the opening speech for the bill, Senator Telford [Rep., Marion] attempted to persuade the senate to postpone the bill, considering that the measure until the legislature introduced a consubstantially similar bill.

After the opponents of the measure had attacked it with every argument they could present, Senator Glenn [Rep., Chicago] answered all of them in a single speech.

"Senator Glenn has been shocked. Senator Jews have been terrified, and the world has been overwhelmed by propaganda for this bill," he said.

"Legislators see no parallel to the propaganda which has been spread for the $100,000,000 road bond bill, yet these self-styled economists who oppose this state bill because of its cost are boasting a bill which will cost the state $130,000,000."

MRS. O'NEILL'S 8 HOUR WOMEN'S BILL WINS, 89-56

Fireworks Absent; Act Sent to Senate.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Springfield, Ill., April 25.—[Special]

Representative Lotte Holman [Rep., Dr. Page], first woman member of the Illinois house of representatives, won her first legislative battle today when the house, by a vote of 89 to 56, passed the women's eight hour bill.

The fight was shorter and less spectacular than was expected. Packed galleries watched the bill go through.

Many house members confidently expected to receive the state police bill in return for the eight hour measure.

WILL Ask Amendment.

Mrs. O'Neill and the house to pass her bill in its original form. When it goes to the senate she said she will use her influence for an amendment to exempt nurses from the provisions of the proposed law, which prevents any employers from compelling or permitting a woman employee to work longer than eight hours a day.

Representative Mrs. O'Neill Brown [Dem., La Salle] led in the fight on the bill. His colleague from La Salle county, Representative Soderstrom [Rep.], supported Mrs. O'Neill.

Herrin Inquiry Moves.

The Herrin inquiry committee left this afternoon for Williamson county, where it expects to remain until next Tuesday. The committee will sit in Marion tomorrow, and before returning to the capital plans to visit Herrin, the Lester strip mine, and the scene of the massacre of June 22, 1922. Numerous witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before the committee.

Senator Webster [Rep., Chicago] introduced the Illinois eugenics bill in the legislature today.

The bill requires couples Eugenics contemplating marriage to obtain certificates giving Bill Offered.

Health before county clerks are permitted to issue licenses.

Senator Webster [Rep., Chicago] offered a maternity bill as a substitute for the eugenics bill to keep federal aid under provisions of the Shepard-Towner act. The Wright bill appropriates $50,000 for maternity and infant welfare work on the assumption that no federal aid shall be accepted and that Illinois shall handle its welfare work independently by federal activities or agencies.

Wright Bill Delay.

Most of the time was taken by opponents of the bill. At the outset after Senator Dunlap made the opening speech for the bill, Senator Telford [Rep., Marion] attempted to persuade the senate to postpone the bill, considering that the measure until the legislature introduced a consubstantially similar bill.

9 PHONE GIRLS STICK TO POSTS AS FLAMES RAGE

While nine girl telephone operators, headed by Miss Mary Dalton, 5911 Indiana avenue, bravely remained at their posts until long after the firemen arrived, hundreds of employees of the American Railway Express company, 901-909 State and Wells street, were driven by flames and smoke sweeping through the elevator shaft from a fire in the basement.

Three girls were trapped in a washroom on the third floor. Four male employees went to their assistance and succeeded in getting them to the street, all of the male employees by the smoke.

There was no other casualty.

The fire, which originated in the basement of the building, where the records of the company are kept, is believed to have been caused by a cigarette.

Close by are the underground vaults where the company stores large quantities of money and jewelry.

Police officers and private detectives stood guard until after the fire.

CITY HALL GRAFT TRUE BILLS SOON VOTED, REPORT

Indictments charging several persons with boddling are expected to be voted on in the grand jury to be convened yesterday, by the special grand jury investigating alleged graft in the city hall during the Lundin-Thompson regime. The charges, it was understood, were to be made in connection with the appraisal of the surface and elevated lines for the city, by the Adams-Beatty-François corporation,

3 PROSPECTIVE JURORS CHOSEN IN BODDLE CASES

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Attorneys in the $1,000,000 school board conspiracy trial examined thirty veniremen yesterday with only perceptible progress. It was a long, weary road to the top of the hill where the destined jury sits.

"Are you prepared to sit here three or four months? Are you locked up in a hotel?" was the question put to prospective jurors several times by Attorney Charles E. Erbstein, who represents one of the defendants, Virtus Rohm.

Attorney Hobart P. Young, chief of the prosecution staff, changed times to "several weeks" and a squabble ensued. Judge Charles A. McDonald ended this by forbidding future speculation. "No one knows how long this trial will take," he said. "We do not want to discourage jurors from serving."

Lasker May Be Called.

During the day it developed that A. D. Lasker, chairman of the United States shipping board, might be called as a witness by the state. Mr. Lasker, and possibly other members of the board, it was indicated, would be questioned regarding boilers sold by the board to the Fitzgerald Boiler works and later resold to the board of education.

It was apparent at the opening of the case yesterday that the regular and special veniremen had become "wise" to the protracted nature of the case in which they were called and many immediately developed "fixed opinions."

Juror Has "Work to Do."

One man, Arthur P. Jorgensen, a carpenter-builder of Melrose park, seemed so sure of dismissal that he entered the jury box wearing his overcoat.

"Business good out your way?" asked Mr. Erbstein as Mr. Jorgensen was excused because of his opinions.

"It's all right for you to sit here and draw your $200 a day," snapped Jorgensen. "I've got some work to do."

Tenders of panels of four were made by both sides during the day, but at the end only two possibilities remained. They are:

Maurice Bager, 1622 Addison street.

Charles Spangenberg, 1404 West 14th place.

John Green, 1204 McAllister place.

an employee in the city street department, has been passed by the defense. Holdover Finally Excused.

Charles A. Steffen, an accountant for the Felt and Tarrant Manufacturing company, who had been held over from the Monday session, was examined closely and it developed that he had gained an impression of the case from hearing remarks of his employer, Mr. E. Felt, who was active at one time in school affairs committee. Steffen was finally excused. Joseph A. Turk, chief engineer for this concern, was also accepted by the state and excused by the defense. He was asked if his firm had been an unsuccessful bidder for school board adding machines and said this might be so.

Mr. Erbstein questioned jurors closely as to their political affiliations, reaching back into their history and taking in the connections of their relatives. He wanted to know if they had read Judge M. L. McKinley's statements concerning the case or the statements given out by prosecutors from the grand jury room.

Charles Burkhardt, 4934 Hutchinson street, was excused because he knew a friend of Fred Lundin and had been active at one time as a precinct captain in his ward.

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickly by applying Methyl Sulphite. The marks seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Rowles' Menthio-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

The Orient— 11 days from Seattle

Three days from Chicago is—Seattle!

IT SEEMS incredible, does it not, that Japan is only a fortnight from Chicago and that, three weeks hence, one can stroll along the colorful streets of Shanghai! The Northern Pacific Railway and the new steamships across the Pacific have made it possible.

Sailing dates from Seattle—shortest route to the Orient—are:

ADMIRAL ORIENTAL LINE

President Jefferson May 26 For Yokohama, Kobe, President Grant June 7 Shanghai, Hong Kong President Madison June 19 and Manila and every 12 days thereafter.

NIPPON YUSEN KAISHA (N. Y. K.)

Yokohama . . . Maru May 27 For Yokohama; Toyooka . . . Maru June 12 Kobe, Nagasaki, Kaga . . . Maru June 18 Shanghai and Toyama . . . Maru June 29 Hong Kong and regularly thereafter.

These magnificent liners rank with the finest vessels afloat. Speedy, safe, steady, splendidly furnished, they bring Orient and Occident closer together than ever before.

Rates from $210 to $375, depending on destination and accommodation desired.

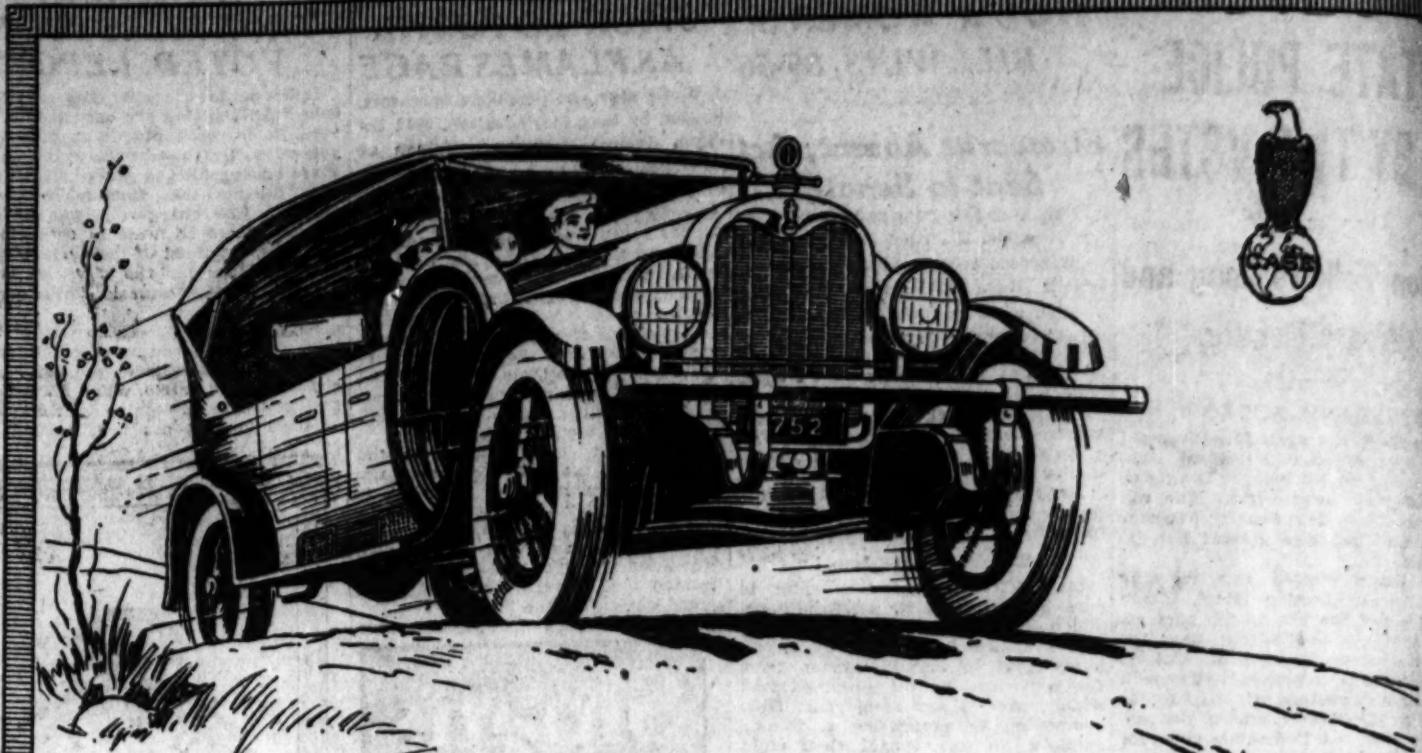

BLUE FUNNEL LINE

Tyndall . . . June 7 For Yokohama, Kobe, Proteus . . . June 28 Hong Kong and Achilles . . . July 19 Manila and every three weeks thereafter.

Consider the Mileage Dollars

After all, the principal factor to the automobile owner is miles-per-dollar. For where is economy in the car which absorbs mileage dollars in maintenance? And what is the wisdom of the car which costs too much to run?

The mileage dollar means gasoline, oil, and service. It means repair, depreciation, and upkeep.

It is through economy in mileage dollars that the Case stands high with the user.

THOMPSON CLAN MOANS AS PLUM TREE WITHERS

Those Easy Jobs Are All
for Democrats Now.

BY PARKER BROWN.

Thompsonite ward heelers who for a few days after the election were wearing broad grins of satisfaction have long faces these days.

They can be seen in little clusters around the city hall lobbies and whenever two or more gather together there is a comparison of notes on just how badly the new administration is treating them.

Of course, Mayor Dever is a Democrat and they are Republicans, but, by Heck didn't they deliver to Dever and didn't they deserve some consideration? And hadn't the Dever administration shown its intention to treat them just as though they were ordinary Republicans who had supported Lueder?

Overheard in Hallway.

That is the substance of conversations overheard yesterday, one of them being held in the hallway outside the office of the commissioner of public works.

"Why—!" exclaimed one of a trio gathered there, "they fired all my teams without a word of warning! Just cut 'em off the pay roll as though I was a perfect stranger."

"And they fired my three inspectors just as fast," said a second agreeing with the first, "it's double crossing, that's what you do! What do you expect? They cannot my teams, but I was on the square with Lueder. You see how far you got with the other game."

Thought They Might "Hold On."

This wailing centered around the most routine of ward patronage—the employment of "shop suey wagons," as the garbage and ash wagons are called, and the hiring of section foremen in the bureau of streets. This is the "soft money" for precinct captains, and scores of concessions under the Thompson regime thought they might be allowed to hold on under Mayor Dever if they scratched Lueder at election day.

Apparently they miscalculated, for the one big order that has gone out in reference to patronage since Mayor Dever's inauguration concerns these ward spoils. The Democratic ward committeemen have been authorized to readjust the pay rolls to meet the Democratic standard. Their recommendations will be investigated, but they will not be interfered with if they want to remove all the Thompsonites, and most of them have started out on that program.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

her hair dark, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By taking at any drug store for "Witch Hazel and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use. You simply dip a small brush in the liquid and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

COLLINS RETURNS COURT'S FIRE ON POLICE SYSTEM

Urge Co-operation of City Judges.

Chief of Police Collins yesterday showed a determination to stand behind his men when the police force bumped into its first breaker of public criticism since the new chief took the departmental helm.

The clash between the chief and Judge Peter McGurn, sitting in the Maxwell street branch of the Municipal court, came after eighteen men, headed by William Boltin, 3204 Ogden avenue, were arraigned on a gambling charge. They were arrested on Tuesday morning by Sergt. Charles McGurn, head of one of the chief's cleanup squads, in a raid on Boltin's cigar store.

Sgt. Robert J. Sullivan of the Metropolitan trust company complete banking facilities in the heart of New York's financial district. Its officers are men thoroughly experienced in large affairs, not only equipped to advise you about your needs but able and ready to work with you in enlarging your business. Utilizing personal attention to the requirements of its depositors is the keystone of its business policy.

Judge Schwabs then scored what he called "the lack of cooperation between the chief's office and the courts."

"We have no testimony in cases and but very sketchy evidence of gambling," he said. "How can the police expect to get convictions in the Municipal courts if they fail to take charge of their cases?"

If Chief Collins wants the courts to uphold his drive against gambling and vice he had better see that his men cooperate more closely with the Municipal courts.

Chief Collins took up the cudgels when they were dropped by former Chief Fitzmorris, who faced a jail sentence for speaking his mind concerning the Carl Wunderer murder case when Wunderer's sanity was being considered by Judge David.

Blames the Courts.

"Judge Schwabs should be criticizing the courts and not the police, for the absence of Sergt. McGurn is an example of the court's failure to cooperate with the police."

It is impossible for a policeman to be in two places at once. Persons arrested by McGurn were arraigned in three courts, and under the present organization of the courts might have been put in five courts at the same time. We can't do that in the police force.

"If the judges are going to take that attitude, it looks like we are wasting the people's money in making raids. Judge Schwabs should understand that he like the police, is an employee of the people of Chicago."

ROB FUGLY WIGGLY STORE.

Burglars broke into a Fugly Wiggle store in the Maxwell street branch of the Municipal court, came after eighteen men, headed by William Boltin, 3204 Ogden avenue, were arraigned on a gambling charge. They were arrested on Tuesday morning by Sergt. Charles McGurn, head of one of the chief's cleanup squads, in a raid on Boltin's cigar store.

BLUE LAWS GET BODY BLOW FROM WISCONSIN HOUSE

Madison, Wis., April 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Wisconsin assembly voted today, 51 to 42, to modify the Sunday observance law to permit the sale of beer, soft, game or beer. By this action the brewer houses reversed its stand last week against modification of the blue laws, which have stood undisturbed for three-quarters of a century. The liberal forces held the upper hand on all roll calls. One amendment was adopted which opened the way for legalized dancing and sports.

DEPOSITORS OF INVOLVED BANK PLEDGE $80,000

Depositors of the Sixteenth Street State bank, alleged to have been wrecked by its former president, Samuel W. Maltz, in the fifth of a series of bankings last night in the Anshei Labavitch synagogue, between 16th and Clifton Park avenues, raised their subscription to $80,000, more than half the amount required to make the institution a cooperative community one. Judge Charles M. Foell, who has twice held up the appointment of a receiver for the bank, was given a vote of thanks.

SOX ALL KEYED TO BURY JINX FOR HOME FOLK

Kamm, Pals Rarin' for Opener Today.

FACTS ABOUT GAME

Time—3 p.m.
Place—Comiskey park.
Participants—White Sox and Cleveland Indians.
Probable attendance—30,000.
Batteries—White Sox, Faber and Schulte; Indians, Coeleski and O'Neill.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

With a few side show attractions to remind the folks that it is the first offense of the American league season locally, Gleason's White Sox and the Cleveland Indians will step into combat today at Comiskey park. The Indians, a mob in excess of 30,000, is expected to turn out, and here's hoping that the old home town battle cry rattles the pale hostess' bones from the start. The jinx that has plagued the Sox since the flag grind got under way.

Gleason introduces his 1923 edition of Sox to the home fans with a record that is better if not mentioned. One game victory and a tie in seven games was a jolt never dreamed of, but even in defeat the team has looked the part of a worthy foe, and eventually it will go strong. Gleason thinks that the familiar home scenario will do the trick.

GOING TO THE STARS.

The chief complaint with the Sox so far has been erratic pitching and spasmodic hitting. Too many safe blows have been taken, and the pitcher should swing the man well into the box, and once they get clutching together, the chemist should see some fun. All that the pitchers need is work something they were unable to get while at the training camp. None can question the statement that the hurlers have ability.

Pop Gleason's crowd is touted to get along with the Indians, and the Indians have a far better aggregation than in 1922, when he was barely nosed out of the first division. The addition of the great Willie Kamm has brought into reality an field of consequence.

The added experience of Johnny Morris and the coming of Roy Esh has added strength and versatility to the outfit. Experience also should tend to make the young hurlers better.

Two Recruits Worth Cheering.

In Kamm and Esh the Sox boast two men who will not be long in winning the hearts of the bugs who inhabit Comiskey park. Kamm, as has been said a million times, is the newest piece of machinery uncovered in many fields. Almost as much can be said for Esh, who is a regular bound on pursuing fly balls. His skill will be appreciated by the fact that he may win a permanent place in the field, where Bill Falk has been an asset.

After putting his charge through a strenuous drill yesterday morning, Phil Gannon announced that he probably would send the veteran Red Faber to the hill today. Faber will draw a stiff opponent in Stanley Coeleski, who was driven from the slab by the Sox in the season's opener, but who has a won-lost record of 10-10.

Keen started the last two frames and finished with two harmless blows.

Faber will draw a stiff opponent in Stanley Coeleski, who was driven from the slab by the Sox in the season's opener, but who has a won-lost record of 10-10.

While waiting for the athletes to swing into action today the fans will be entertained by a radio concert. The time will be picked up by the huge movie set in the club office and contributed to different parts of the grand stand by the electrical enunciator.

McCALL STREET - The Rue de la Paix of America

The most famous Fashion Avenues in the world are the Rue de la Paix in Paris, and McCall Street in America

American women—the women who live on McCall Street—are the best-dressed women in the world.

Great French couturiers inspire the styles, and even create directly the fashions for the McCall Publications, to which millions of American women look for guidance. Paul Poiret himself designs for McCall's—read his letter, reproduced on the left.

The McCall Printed Pattern is the simplest pattern in the world. It is the greatest labor-saving device for women since the sewing-machine. Its economy and accuracy have made home dressmaking universal. The women of McCall Street not only dress better, but the McCall Printed Pattern enables them to save over a million dollars a day.

Home dressmakers on McCall Street buy a billion dollars' worth of cotton goods, woolens, worsteds, silks, satins, linens, laces, embroideries, ribbons, threads, buttons, fasteners, shields and other notions every year. In buying these materials, they naturally incline toward those products they have seen advertised in McCall's Magazine.

of Letter from
Paul Poiret to McCall's

Gentlemen:

I have been greatly interested in examining the new McCall Patterns which you sent me and I feel that I must compliment you on your achievement.

Your printed patterns excel anything I have known before for giving to the woman who makes her own clothes as well as to dressmakers the latest style information and the ideal working plan for carrying it out. Nothing could be more accurate, easier to follow; nothing could be more sure than your faultless patterns.

It is with the greatest pleasure that I send you some of my latest creations to be reproduced and published in "New McCall Patterns."

I am convinced that the American ladies, to whom I especially dedicate them, will be able to reproduce them true to the original with the help of your excellent patterns.

Very truly yours,

Paul Poiret.

When Hearts Command

By ELIZABETH YORK MILLER

SYNOPSIS.

Mrs. Jean Carnay and her daughter Alice are spending an extravagant vacation on the Malo Rivers after a lifetime of frugal living. They meet Dr. Philip Ardene, the famous London alchemist, and Jean and Alice become engaged.

Jean learns that her husband, Hugo, who has been in a criminal insane asylum for the killing of his partner, has been released and is about to join her. Not even Alice knows that he is alive. Carnay, widow of the man slain by Hugo, arrives at the hotel. She and Dr. Ardene are old friends.

Mrs. Carnay had been illegally married to Hector Gaunt in her youth, and Hugo had married her afterward to protect her and her unborn child.

INSTALLMENT X.

JEANS BREAKS THE NEWS TO ALICE.

With a book on her knees she sat in the little slip of a sitting room before the fireplace fire and thought over what it might have been like for her and for Alice had she not come out as the lecherous wife of Hector Augustus Gaunt. Would the child really be Alice? No one would have known. Never had made that quite clear to her. His old wife was alive; he had heard from her unexpectedly on the subject of money after a long lapse of years. There had been no question of her bothering him, no question of denouncing him for the bigamist he undoubtedly was.

But Jean had been badly frightened. The baby was coming—the baby who would have no name; and there was mad but chivalrous Hugo Smarle wishing to marry her and her father her child.

If her marriage to Gaunt had not been secret as well as illegal, perhaps she would have risked the consequences, but no one knew except Hugo Smarle, to whom the secret was confided, more or less because with the uncanny gift of second sight he possessed he had already divined it. Hugo was a nephew by marriage of the old Frenchwoman with whom Jean had lived as a young girl. Mme. Doutre wanted her to marry Hugo; Hugo wanted her to marry him despite the disadvantage to himself of such a union. In fact, Hugo had frightened her into it by painting a terrible picture of what might happen if she didn't. Poor, mad Hugo—it wasn't that he cared so much for her. He had merely snatched at the chance to be heroic.

Thinking about Hugo, Jean was forced to admit a great deal that was favorable to him. Hugo had always been kind to her, and no one in the wide world would ever have guessed from him that Alice was not his own child. Thank heaven, thought Jean, there had never been any other children.

Quickly she picked up her book as the sitting room door opened. It was not quite ten o'clock, but Alice had come up, bringing Dr. Ardene with her. They hoped she was not too tired; Alice herself was a little tired.

And then Mrs. Carnay broke the news she had prepared for them, keeping her voice as low as possible.

"By the way, dear"—intensely she addressed Alice—"Uncle John Ballis is on his way to Genoa from Paris. I had a telegram asking me to meet him at Ventimiglia."

"Uncle John Ballis," echoed Alice. Ballis, she knew, was her mother's maiden name. "A relative of yours, mumsy?"

"My brother," said Mrs. Carnay.

Alice looked surprised. She had never heard of her mother's brother; never knew there had been such a person; but she was well used to reticence, even in family affairs. So she merely remarked: "How interesting."

"And," Mrs. Carnay continued, "I thought I'd ask him to break his journey and stop over with us for a week or so. It's a good many years since I've seen you—your Uncle John."

"I should like to see him," Alice said.

Hugo hadn't been there, she would have expatiated upon the fact that, having a feeling childhood's memory of Christopher Smarle, she had never met a single relative on either side of the family. But Alice was just a little ashamed of their isolation. Other people had shoals of relatives, but she and her mother seemed not to have one who was the slightest bit of use to them for social purposes.

They talked a little more before Ardene said good night. He wanted to hire a car for tomorrow and make rather a picnic of meeting Uncle John, but Mrs. Carnay said no. Her brother was a little peculiar in some things, and he hadn't been well lately. It would be better if she met him alone. He might require tactful coaxing to get him to alter his plans.

Ardene thought to himself: "She wants to tell him about Alice and me. I hope Uncle John isn't a tremendously important person, or to fanciful perhaps. Suppose he doesn't like me!"

When her sweetheart had gone, Alice asked:

"Mumsy, have I ever heard of Uncle John?"

Mrs. Carnay was busy setting the room to rights for the night. Sometimes she gave an impression of being a rather fussy little woman. She opened the window to the balcony and carried out a couple of vases of flowers.

"What's that?" she asked over her shoulder.

Alice varied the form of her question. "I don't seem even to have heard of Uncle John," she said.

"Perhaps not," her mother agreed. "As a family, we've never clung together much."

"But how did he find out where we were?"

"He saw your Cousin Christopher recently," Mrs. Carnay replied. "And Christopher happened to mention that we were on the Italian Riviera. He's coming by the train de luxe. That gets in a little earlier than the one we came by."

"Do you really want to meet him alone?" Alice asked. "Or is it that you don't want Philip? Because I could come with you. Philip would understand."

"No, no, dear—I'd much rather meet him alone," Mrs. Carnay replied hastily. "As I said, he's been ill—in a nursing home. Christopher said—and he's bound to be a bit old and cranky. Of course, he may not want to stop over here."

"I should like to see him," Alice mused a little wistfully. "I don't mind a bit if he's cranky like. It was so nice meeting Mr. Gaunt, mumsy. Dear me, it does seem as though Christopher was full of people we—we know and like. There's Philip and Mr. Gaunt, and now your brother's coming. I rather love him, mumsy. It's so nice to have friends and—people one truly cares for."

Mrs. Carnay set out the last of the flower jars and took an opportunity to inspect the night before coming in. She didn't want Alice to see the tears in her eyes. Poor Alice! Yes, it had been a lonely life for a young girl. But now Alice was going to be married and all that would be changed.

"I simply adored him," Jean called out from the balcony.

"I am too," Alice replied. "Mumsy, you won't be angry if I am too?"

"Good gracious, no! But I think I know what it is." She laughed unsteadily. "You're going to say that dear old Hector Gaunt is in love with me—or was."

"Yes, he is, mumsy—but I was going to say worse than that. Perhaps you will be angry. I think you're just a wee bit in love with him."

Mrs. Carnay laughed again, a little too boisterously this time. "How ridiculous you are, my dear! Just because you're in love with yourself, you know."

"I am in love with him years ago."

"And then you met poor daddy and got over caring for Mr. Gaunt?" Alice sighed.

"Something like that," said her mother.

Here was Alice again trying to lead her out of her depth, but she resisted stubbornly.

"I suppose he's a widower," Alice mused. "He doesn't look like an old bachelor."

"I believe he is a widower," Jean agreed, adding with grim humor. "If he was he'd be dead."

"Yes, he was living when you first met him?"

"Living with him before? Did you know her?"

"No, I never saw her. They had separated, I believe."

"And he couldn't marry you because he already had a wife! I don't know what I should do if I suddenly learned that Philip was married."

"How did you know? I learned that Mr. Gaunt was married."

"In spite of her best efforts to resist poor Mrs. Carnay had been led out to sea again and was floundering now."

"But it must have been this way," Alice said quietly. "Otherwise he would never have given you up—or you, him. I think it was a mistake, mumsy. You oughtn't to have married daddy when you and Mr. Gaunt cared so much for each other."

"Really?" Jean gasped. "I don't think I understand the girls of today. Where do you get such curious ideas, Alice?"

"But, mumsy, dear, it's just common sense. However, I don't suppose I should have been here if you hadn't married daddy, and I'm glad I'm here."

Mrs. Carnay sighed deeply, and Alice took a quick, sharp, silent. Thank heaven. Alice's deadly line of deduction had ended short of the whole truth. Yet it seemed to Mrs. Carnay that her sacrifice had been in vain. Perhaps Alice wouldn't have been destined being the acknowledged child of Hector Augustus Gaunt. Truly, the modern girl was a strange creature. If only one could have looked ahead and realized that, difficult as the situation would have been, Alice might not have considered it either too shameful or impossible to be born. But one could not alter the matter now.

Patience, industry and optimism will win the day, if the astrological chart may be read as conclusive evidence. Saturn, Venus, Neptune, and Jupiter tender conflicting influence, according to astrology.

Those whose birthday it is have the promise that with care and the avoidance of quarrels business will succeed.

Children born on this day may be extraverted and headstrong, and according to the stars will succeed best in employ.

You have a will power of your own, coupled with intelligence of a rare order, and this tempered with tact and diplomacy makes you a rather fine subject, according to astrology. You have an artistic turn in your make-up, and are fond of making art. Still, your business head and powers of organization are dominant traits. You are fond of money and the power it brings, and must be careful not to give way to the temptation to risk all in an attempt to get rich quickly. You are more or less literary, but the practical interests of life, particularly because they will more quickly supply your money urge, subjugate your talent.

He'll Call if Interested.

"Dear Alice, I went out with a nice young fellow the other night. We went to a show. After the show he took me home. He was nice to me. He then told me he would call some night during the week, but he didn't. He gave me his telephone number."

"LONESOME."

My advice would be: Lonesome, not to call him up. One of the wise moves in winning a man is to be a good listener after him. If he is interested, he will call you. If not, no amount of phoning will budge a genuine affection.

Miss Kathryn Ballard Designates May 5 for Her Wedding Day

Miss Kathryn Ballard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Ballard of 920 Michigan avenue, Evanston, has chosen May 5 as the date of her marriage to Peter Schuttler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schuttler of 261 Fullerton parkway. The wedding will take place at 3:30 p.m. in the evening at the residence of the bride's parents, the Rev. George Craig Stewart officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Schuttler will be at home after 4:00 p.m. Deming place.

ester tiles and smilax decorated the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Lewis of 2355 Commonwealth avenue yesterday evening for the marriage of their niece, Miss Margaret Lewis, daughter of David Robert Lewis of 181 North State street, The Shedd, Sheldon of Chicago. The Rev. John Timothy Stone read the service at 4:30 o'clock in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends. The bride's gown was of white satin with pearl trimmings and she wore a tall veil with a pearl coronet. Her only attendant, her sister, Miss Marion Lewis, wore a white dress with a beaded gown and carried pink roses and green peas. Alfred MacArthur acted as best man for his brother-in-law.

Among the guests was the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Theodore Sheldon of Santa Barbara, formerly of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon will be at home at 3152 Hudson avenue after 4:00 p.m. Deming place.

TAX LAW REPEAL IS REFLECTED BY CUT IN REVENUE

Classified Receipts Show
Gain for March.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., April 25.—(Special.)—Classified receipts of internal revenue collections for March, 1923, totaled $377,947,232, as compared with $331,730,282 for March last year, while for the period from July 1, 1922, to March 31, 1923, they totaled $1,753,105,576, a decrease of $722,925,007 under collections for the corresponding period ending March 31, 1922, according to official figures announced today by the commissioner of internal revenue.

The decline is a reflection of the repeal by the revenue act of 1921, effective Jan. 1, 1922, of a number of taxes, including excess profits, excise, etc., also including those on luxuries, transportation, etc.

Receipts from income and profits and miscellaneous taxes for the period July 1, 1922—March 31, 1923, totaled $1,920,094,672, of which $1,222,877,404 were income and profits tax, as compared with a total of $2,630,003,150, of which $1,723,368,830 was from this source, for the corresponding period ending March 31, 1922.

Income and excess profits taxes assessed on individuals, partnerships, and corporations were the source of $216,495,549 in March, 1923, an increase of $53,094,411 over March, 1922.

PUBLISHERS ASK FOR "NEWSPRINT"
TO BE NEWSPRINT

New York, April 25.—The American Newspaper Publishers' association, in convention, voted today to urge the treasury department to define newspaper as "newsprint" in the free list by the federal revenue act of 1922, as properly including only "newsprint used in the manufacture of standard newspapers."

The resolution was proposed by the committee on federal laws, of which S. E. Patterson is chairman.

Postmaster General Harry New made a plea for greater cooperation by the publishers in preparing single paper packages for the second class mail. Most of the complaints of slow service, he said, were due to carelessness in wrapping.

Paul Patterson of Baltimore, president of the association, made an appeal against "extravagant and waste use of newsprint."

DEMOCRAT LAYS SUGAR GOUGING TO G. O. P. TARIFF

Hull's Figures Give Reason for Boost.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., April 25.—(Special.)—Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic national committee, still insists that the tariff is responsible for the rise in sugar prices, notwithstanding the disclaimer to President Harding by the tariff commission.

After later investigation the wholesale price of sugar to the new high of 10 1/2 cents a pound, announced this morning, Mr. Hull said, "confirms my statement suggesting the principal cause and the most effective present single remedy for the robbery of American people by extortionate sugar prices now going on at the rate of $400,000,000 a year."

Reasons for Skyrocketing.
The reason of sugar's present high basis for the recent skyrocketing of sugar is the prohibitive tariff wall, amounting nominally to 2.20 cents, but in effect to 2.25 cents to 2.50 cents a pound, against the world and the differential tariff in favor of Cuba amounting nominally to 1.76 cents, but in effect to 1.90 cents to 2 cents a pound, according to the day the President Harding and his tariff commission undertook to whitewash and screen the prohibitive tariff rates, and to repudiate the suggested reduction of 50 percent by presidential proclamation.

BY SCRUTATOR.

According to a calculation made by railroad leaders in arbitration proceedings, the number of persons engaged in "primary productive industry" increased 2.4 per cent from 1910 to 1920, while those engaged in "overhead and distributive" occupations increased 20.7 per cent. The figures are: Total number of gainfully employed, 210,383,167,000; primary production, 18,293,000; overhead and distributive, 18,090,000; total gainfully employed in 1920, 229,360,000; primary production, 18,585,000; distributive and overhead, 18,754,000.

Such figures must be used with caution, as the classification of occupations as primary or secondary, is largely arbitrary, representing a general distinction in many cases. Occupations are not the same, and figures are too often far fetched.

The bigger the country the bigger the overhead will be and the greater the amount of labor and capital necessary for distribution. We know that not enough capital is now employed in transportation, and not enough labor in extending the transportation plant. The decline in the number of farmers has been offset by increased productivity of farm, while the number of coal miners is excessive.

Not allowing for all that, it is still probably true that American industry must stand for a considerable shift of workers back to "primary production." Dispatches reporting labor shortage in various sections of the country, up to a few days ago, usually carried a paragraph stating that office and clerical help was plentiful. The labor statistics of the state of New York show that in the last year the number of office workers, salesmen and brokers 42.9 per cent, bookkeepers 44.5 per cent, clerks 41.8 per cent, typographers 94.4 per cent, wholesale dealers 30.1 per cent; while masons, carpenters, farmers, farm laborers, painters and tailors all declined in number, from 11 to 30.5 per cent.

It begins to appear that the business boom, aided by immigration restriction, is about to reverse the trend and will move more and more into the better paid manufacturing. The committee to enforce the Lantis award notes that hundreds of clerks and stenographers have enrolled in its school to learn the building trades. Similar reports are trickling in from various sources. Big industries are being integrated into "vertical trusts," which cuts down overhead and selling forces. There are signs that we are on the eve of further corporation mergers.

The official census of 1920 was also taken with census of 1910 was to be done after the war. That figure has been greatly reduced.

Are we about to witness the demise of another sacred cow, long honored by industrial "yessers"? The formula that "Americans will not do manual labor" has faded, until its very repetition has aroused doubt.

If it is true, that "Americans will not do manual labor," then about 75,000,000 of the population of this country are now the best that built up the nation. The sons and daughters of our younger generation are said to be lounge lizards and snobs. Of course, it's the bunk. The idea that "Americans" will not work, but live to the best, while newcomers do the rest, is close akin to the widespread notion that the colonial stocks, and the native stocks, are from the same root. Books by superficial socialists like Werner Sombart and Greenwich pater of the "newer Americans" have instilled this fallacy.

William S. Rosster in a study of the population increase from 1790 to 1920 finds that there are 47,000,000 unmarked descendants of those enumerated in 1790. Distinguishable from them, are 30,000,000 or 40,000,000 descendants of immigrants, largely intermixed with the yet older arrivals. Intermarriage is becoming universal. The rate of increase for these elements is about 12 per cent per decade, or approximately the same rate as that of their parent populations now in Europe.

The great majority of these folk, of course, are doing manual labor, and are ready to do a great more, when it is well and its working conditions approach "American standards."

As wages rise, white collars and overalls become more interchangeable.

Now a Co-operative Firm

Fresno, Cal., April 25.—Successful reorganization of the Sun Maid Raisin Growers, the first cooperative marketing association in the world, was announced tonight. The $2,500,000 required to place the 15,000 raisin growers of the San Joaquin valley on a firm financial footing, was raised by public subscription.

The outstanding stock of the California association will now be converted into 1 per cent cumulative stock of a new corporation, the non-cumulative stock of which will be owned by the Sun Maid Raisin Growers as a California association, and voted by its directors as trustees. The California corporation will issue one share of stock, of $1.00 par value to each grower, who must surrender it at any time he ceases to deliver his raisins to the organization.

The preferred stock will be used as payment for $2,000,000 in bonds of the corporation, largely intended for the payment of debts to the growers in payment for their outstanding California stock. The Sun Maid Raisin Growers will also float a $2,000,000 bond issue on its plants and property.

STEEL INDUSTRY, RAIL AND MOTORS SET NEW RECORDS

BY O. A. MATHER.

The setting of "new records" in the field of industry has become almost commonplace lately but such performances are important as a measure of prosperity. Yesterday added an unusual entry to the record, representing the rail, transportation and automobile industries.

The steel industry this week is smashing all records of recent years. Plant operations now are close to 92 per cent of capacity, with the Steel corporation about 2 points above and the independent about 2 points below the general average.

High consumption, continued pressure for deliveries and sustained consumption of all materials in the market are reflected from every district," the Iron Age says. "Buying has diminished somewhat because many users have their supply bought for several months and because the leading mills are sold up well into the third quarter."

Record Freight Traffic.

Railroad freight traffic broke all records for this time of year in the week ended April 14, according to the American Railway Association. Revenue loadings totalled $46,729 cars, an increase of $6,491 cars over the corresponding week a year ago. Furthermore, the week ending April 17 is the largest since last November, when the coal and crop movements were in full swing and also is within 7 per cent of the high record week in October, 1920, which also was a "crop movement" month. All types of commodities normally handled are now sharing in the increased volume, with merchandise and miscellaneous freight extraordinarily heavy.

"This year should be the biggest in the history of the Illinois Central system," President Markham says. "The first quarter established a record with net incomes of $40,000,000, an increase of $1,500,000 over a year ago. I believe the rest of the year also will be far ahead of 1922, which was our previous record year."

Huge Automobile Output.

The automobile industry expects its output this month to be the highest record of 846,000 cars and trucks. During the first ten days of April production exceeded the total in March. "Should April output reach the 350,000 mark, as is estimated from the pace now being maintained, it would usher in a quarter that, if it maintains production at the same rate, would establish a record far ahead of the 823,872 units produced in the first three months of the year," the Automobile Manufacturers say. The maintenance of high output is warranted by sustained demand. Improved conditions with the farmer have brightened his outlook and made him an active and important factor in the distribution of automotive products. This refers to tractors and tractors as well as cars."

Prices Move Upward.

Prices of sugar, cotton and certain steel products continued on the upward trend yesterday, while reduction in oil products was extended. Cuban raw sugar sold at 6¢ a pound, while most of the refiners quoted 10¢ to $10 for granulated. Cotton advanced 2¢ to 4¢ a bale with a better demand, unfavorable weather for crop, and the beginning of a long of deliveries next month to trade interests. Steel bars, shapes and plates were advanced $1.00 a ton, while wire rods and wire nails were boosted $2.00 a ton.

Two oil refining companies announced reductions ranging from 10 to 30 a barrel for Wyoming and Montana grades of crude oil. Northwestern Pennsylvania refiners reduced gasoline and kerosene a quarter of a cent a gallon.

CELEBRATING "PEP" DAY AT THE PARKER HIGH SCHOOL. Students and teachers of the high school yesterday celebrated "pep" day, which has become an annual institution, by dressing in clownish costumes and in general showing that they are full of "pep." The picture shows one of the features of the day's celebration.

Copyright 1923 by New York Times Co., April 26.—[8] Arthur Conan Doyle attended here tonight by Arthur, whom he has called the "boy" he has received a message from him.

He saw spirit lights and in the air, identifying one as that of a boy he had received a message from him. Nearly all the known phenomena were produced for spiritualists except that of and it is believed by spiritists that the faces are sometimes produced by building up of this queer substance.

With Sir Arthur at the table, Malcolm Bird, associate of Scientific American, which wants to settle the disputed psychic phenomena once and for all, and Mr. Bird, while declining to commit himself to a belief in the非凡, under conditions which a careful test, thought the medium would be difficult to expose.

Scientist Watches Test. At times, as when the heavy table floated in the air, Miss Bessinet's hand under a card vouches for the fact that she did not lift it and make it go.

The seance was held at the home of John G. Pyle, 1044 Peoria, who has known Miss Bessinet since she was 12 years old and watched her develop her career. He and those who form the circle believe in her abilities and have for a long time taken performances which have become among spiritualists all over the world.

The test had been arranged at the request of Sir Arthur, who stopped off here because Mr. Bird gave him an opportunity of seeing conditions in a circle of his own.

Variety of Voices Heard. The psychic lights produced by Bird, were brighter than any he had seen in England. Displayed to his eye none of having their origin in a medium has been suggested by some who have seen them. The change color as they appear, a characteristic of light.

The faces produced were distinct and very distinct, so that any one who knew them, and at times evidently masking the idea that they were caused by a light shining on the medium. The voices, of wide range and at times musical and personal character, indicating that they came from eight different persons or spirits.

Room Carefully Prepared. The seance was held in the room. Around the dining room were Dr. and Mrs. Pyle, Sir Arthur, Mr. Bird, the Rev. Horace Bushnell, the First Unitarian church, Mr. and Mrs. Lee.

They first removed the chair from the table, leaving it in the center, so that what it would be perfectly shielded. Remaining in the room, the chin cabinet, a table, a chair, a lamp on a table, and a candle on a shelf, which was placed between the medium and the dining room. On the shelf was the name of any one man.

Mr. Lee sometimes opened the window so as to exclude from outside and the kitchen. Remaining in the room, the chin cabinet, a table, a chair, a lamp on a table, and a candle on a shelf, which was placed between the medium and the dining room. On the shelf was the name of any one man.

Not at All Times Convincing. Mrs. Lee sometimes opened the window, announcing what she did so, and sometimes the sound was increased, and sometimes it was diminished, and sometimes it was changed. When Mrs. Lee was changing the clergy, he was holding her hands so that she could not. There were times when Miss Bessinet could have done other things while holding the hand of Mr. Bird that she could not.

On the table were placed records, songs, and low music, which were called for to form the control. The Arthur first sat next to Mrs. Lee, then next to Mr. Bird, and then in a changed place, at the request of Miss Bessinet. A rather large
